B10 What is this department best known for? Please include: industry sector expertise; key types of work; areas of recent growth. Address any feedback on our recent coverage of your department (500 word count limit)

ARAQUEREYNA's Tax practice advises on Venezuelan tax matters across transactions, controversy, operational taxation, corporate reorganisations and private-wealth planning. The team's work includes direct and indirect taxes, income tax, VAT, municipal taxation, customs-related tax issues, transfer pricing, advance-payment regimes, tax recovery regimes, inheritance tax and tax planning.

The practice regularly combines tax advice with corporate, M&A, labour, regulatory and finance capabilities where mandates require an integrated response. Recent work includes tax advice on Gruppo Montenegro's acquisition of the Pampero rum brand and the Venezuelan framework for its operation and distribution; assistance to PEPSICO in SENIAT audit procedures concerning income tax and VAT, foreign-exchange gains and losses, and transfer pricing; and tax assistance to Turkish Airlines in a Ministry of Tourism audit concerning the special tourism tax.

The team also advises clients on national and municipal tax obligations, authority-facing requests and consultations, corporate restructurings, market-entry structures and cross-border wealth and succession planning. Its private-client work includes planning for family groups, inherited estates and Venezuelan real-estate holding structures, including mandates with connections to Spain, Barbados and the United States.

The department is led by senior practitioners María Carolina Cano, Gabriel Ruán Santos and Ingrid García Pacheco. María Carolina Cano leads transactional, audit, structuring and wealth-planning mandates; Gabriel Ruán Santos contributes experience in contentious tax work and national-tax advisory matters; and Ingrid García Pacheco leads matters involving local taxation, estate planning and international structures. Senior Associate María Alejandra Garcia Nieto is listed across mandates involving tax audits, tax controversy, succession planning and tax structuring.

C2 Feedback on our coverage of this practice area (Optional)

ARAQUEREYNA seeks continued recognition in Chambers Venezuela Tax for a practice that combines transactional tax, contentious and audit work, ongoing operational advice, and private-wealth planning.

The team's representative work includes tax analysis across direct and indirect taxes, VAT, alcohol and spirits tax, customs and municipal taxation in connection with Gruppo Montenegro's completed acquisition of the Pampero rum brand. It also assists PEPSICO in SENIAT audit procedures concerning income tax and VAT, foreign-exchange gains and losses, and transfer pricing; advised Turkish Airlines during a tourism-tax audit that closed with a resolution; and advises MAPFRE on income tax and advance-payment regimes.

The practice further demonstrates depth in corporate restructurings, cross-border investment and market-entry work, municipal tax planning, import-related tax issues, tax recovery regimes, succession matters and wealth-planning structures. María Carolina Cano, Gabriel Ruán Santos and Ingrid García Pacheco provide senior leadership across these mandates, while María Alejandra Garcia Nieto contributes to the team's visibility on audit, controversy and private-client work.

This combination of corporate tax, controversy and private-client capability supports continued coverage for the practice.
